Notre Dame Alumna Bloggers

Lisa Hendey, 1985
http://catholicmom.com/
"All things faith, family and fun from a Catholic perspective"

Cindy Fey, 1987
http://cindy-weallfalldown.blogspot.com/
"Raising a family out of the ruins of the past. Mothering and movies, grief and grace, books and blunders. Recovery without chicken soup."

Jeanne Quigley, 1988
http://www.jeannequigley.wordpress.com
“All Things Cozy” focuses on writing and reading – and was created in preparation for a debut novel, “All Things Murder,” which is due out in May 2014.

Jennifer Gilhool, 1989
http://pinkstreakink.us/
"Powered by a Goal, a Dream, and a Passion to Make a Difference"

Lisa Kirner Kelly, 1993
herloyalsons.com
ND Football blog- Lisa is a regular contributor.

Kim Tracy Prince, 1993
http://www.kimtracyprince.com
“I started this site in 2004 to tell stories about my first pregnancy and new motherhood. Once the novelty of parenthood wore off, I just kept going.”

Laurie Sessa, 1993
http://takeheartlauriesessa.wordpress.com/
"To help you feel more hopeful and confident about your place in the world"

Lynne Russo Hartzer, 1994
http://landoflostbooks.com
A book review blog, and a place to share a title that deserves some extra attention.

Julie Wilkens McMahon, 1994
http://fivedownunder.com
“Travel, family, and time abroad.”

Karen Shopoff Roof, 1996
http://onbalance.wordpress.com
“I’m a certified personal trainer, and my expertise is working with perinatal women. My blog has a focus on motherhood and how important it is for mothers to prioritize their own fitness and wellness.”

Jill Nowak Johns, 1997
http://www.jill-johns.com/blog
WINGS- helping women of all ages take flight in their careers through coaching, training and other resources.

Shannan Ball Younger, 1998, 2001 LAW
http://www.chicagonow.com/tween-us
Parenting tweens and teens.

Julia Gillespie Passamani, 2000
http://www.chicagonow.com/lipstick-lollipops
“Just like you, things happen. I share them and try to laugh as I make it through the day…”

Lisa Czlonka, 2002
www.wailanis.com/blog
Have fun and live healthy!

Laura Kelly Fanucci, 2003
http://motheringspirit.wordpress.com
“I write about faith and family life – the intersections of spirituality and parenting.”

Vineeta Gupta, 2004 LAW
http://offpaper.in/en
A program officer for the Global Fund for Children, Vineeta is “a passionate advocate for investment in children and girls’ empowerment.”

Cara Krenn, 2004
twinthusiasm.com
Let’s Talk Twins!

Anna Keating, 2006
thecatholiccatalogue.com
The Catholic Catalogue is your source for Catholic practice and esoterica, from the trivial to the profound.
Also an upcoming book!

Brittany Mazur ’07
http://whiteslist.com
As an ND FTT grad, Brittany writes about the entertainment field. “I hope to showcase the impact and relevance film, television and theatre have on us and to share my insights on related topics I’m passionate about.”

Danielle Truskowski Hetzel, 2008
http://hetzelkitchen.blogspot.com/
"I decided to go on an adventure. I wanted to learn. This is my journey cooking around the world."

Jessica Peyton, 2008
http://www.aimhighwriting.com/blog.html
Strategic writing for students and professionals

Clare Brady, 2010
http://fitting-it-all-in.com
"Keeping Busy, Staying Healthy"

Kate (Zinsmeister) Harvey, 2010
http://something-ivory.blogspot.com
“ı write about faith, young marriage, DIY projects, the arts and literature, some of the issues we modern women face, as well as fashion and style.”

Casey O'Haloran, 2010
thediplaybook.com
"Big League Decorating Dreams on Rookie Salaries"

Jessica Maday (Schuveiller), 2012
www.volasports.com/blog
“I played on ND’s women’s soccer team and am doing a blog for a sports apparel company called Vola. Each week will feature an athlete with interviews of a lot of ND grads who have gone pro.”

Kathleen Toohill, 2012
quarterlifeconversations.com
"The Key to Navigating Your 20s"
Lauren Chval, 2013

imagemoved.wordpress.com

Entertainment and Athletics Commentary